TEAM NOTES AGAINST PHILADELPHIA

- New England is 3-7-3 all-time in the regular season against Philadelphia.
- In the last five regular season meetings between the two sides, New England is 3-2-0, out-scoring the Union, 13-8, in that span.
- The Revs won their first-ever regular-season game at PPL Park, when they posted a 5-3 win on May 17, 2014. Overall, New England is 1-4-2 in regular-season meetings in Chester, Pa. with all four losses coming by a single goal.
- Last season, the Revs lost the season series between the two sides, going 1-2-0 in three games against the Union. Philadelphia won the first meeting 1-0 at PPL Park on March 15 before the Revs claimed a 5-3 win there on May 17. The Union then claimed the season series by beating the Revs 3-1 at Gillette Stadium on June 28.
- The Revs have lost four of the five regular-season series between the sides including 2014. The only time New England beat Philadelphia in a season series was in 2013 when they went 2-1-0 against the Union with the home side winning all three games.
- The Revs are 2-3-1 all-time at Gillette Stadium against the Union with each side scoring nine times in those six contests.
- Seven of the 13 regular-season meetings between the teams have been decided by goals in the 70th minute or later.
- Last season, New England fell 2-0 against Philadelphia at PPL Park in the quarterfinals of the Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup on July 8. The meeting was the first between the two sides outside of MLS regular-season competition. The loss dropped the Revs overall record against Philly to 3-8-3, including a 1-5-3 record at PPL Park.

PLAYER NOTES AGAINST PHILADELPHIA

- Diego Fagundez is the Revs' all-time leading scorer against Philadelphia, netting three goals and adding three assists in seven games.
- Kelyn Rowe has two goals and three assists against the Union. He scored both goals on August 25, 2013 in his first-ever multi-goal game. His last assist against the Union was recorded on June 28, 2014.
- Lee Nguyen has two goals and two assists, scoring goal and an assist against Philadelphia on two occasions, including May 17, 2014 at PPL Park and at Gillette Stadium on April 27, 2013.
- Juan Agudelo has two goals against the Union, both coming in the 5-1 victory at Gillette Stadium on August 25, 2013. That was the second multi-goal game of his MLS career.
- Chris Tierney has one goal and three assists against the Union, all recorded at PPL Park. Last season, Tierney recorded a goal and an assist in the Revs' 5-3 win there on May 17.
- Teal Bunbury has two assists against the Union. One assist was recorded while playing for Sporting Kansas City in 2013 and the other came with the Revs on May 17, 2014.
- Jeremy Hall has two assists against the Union, with one coming while playing for the New York Red Bulls in 2010 and the most recent while playing with Toronto FC in 2013.
- Scott Caldwell and Daigo Kobayashi each recorded assists against the Union last season.
- Bobby Shuttleworth is 1-4-0 against the Union, with one shutout and a 1.00 goals against average.
- Brad Knighton is 1-2-0 in three appearances against the Union, including a 1-1-0 mak against them last season. He was also in goal for the Revs when they lost to Philadelphia in the 2014 U.S. Open Cup.
- He played for the Union in their inaugural season of 2010, going 3-3-1 with a 1.10 goals against average in eight games.
- Steve Neumann is from the Philadelphia region, growing up in New Hope, Pa., which is about an hour north of the city.

LAST REGULAR-SEASON MEETING

Philadelphia 3, New England 1

June 28, 2014 - Gillette Stadium (Foxborough, Mass.)

FOXBOROUGH, Mass. – The Revolution returned to MLS play after a three-week, league-wide World Cup break, suffering a 3-1 loss at home to the Union. Saer Sene scored his first goal of the season minutes after coming on as a substitute in the 70th minute, but it was not enough to defeat the Union, who got goals on either side of halftime from Sebastian Le Toux while Danny Cruz scored what would prove to be the game-winner in the 69th minute. The Revs outshot Philadelphia 22-12 in the game as Philadelphia claimed their second win of the year over New England and took the season series against the Revs for the fourth time in five years.

TEAM NOTES

REVS LOOK TO STAY HOT AT HOME

The Revs' 0-0 draw with Columbus last weekend extended the Revs' home unbeaten streak in all competitions, which dates back to July 30, 2014, to 13 games. Since a 3-0 win over Colorado on July 30 last season, a win that snapped the Revs' eight-game losing streak, New England has gone 9-0-4 at Gillette Stadium, including a win and a draw in the 2014 MLS Cup Playoffs.

In just the regular season, the Revs are now unbeaten in their last 11, going 8-0-3 in that time. They are now just one game shy of tying the club record for the longest regular-season home unbeaten streak of 12. That run began on September 18, 2004 and ran through July 25, 2005 with the club going 9-0-3 in that time, while also winning their lone home playoff game.

AGUDELO AND NGUYEN RETURN

Juan Agudelo and Lee Nguyen returned to Revolution training on Friday after spending time in Texas with the U.S. National Team for Wednesday's friendly against Mexico. Nguyen did not appear in that game while Agudelo came on for Jordan Morris in the 65th minute, scoring a goal seven minutes later.

For Agudelo, that was his first appearance with the U.S. National Team since March 2014 when he came off the bench in a friendly against Ukraine. His goal, which was the third of his international career, was his first since March 2012 when he scored for the U.S. in a 1-1 draw with Argentina.

AGUDELO GOAL A LONG TIME COMING FOR THE REVS

Agudelo's goal for the U.S. on Wednesday night was the first for a Revolution player with the U.S. since June 12, 2007 when Taylor Twellman scored against El Salvador at Gillette Stadium in the CONCACAF Gold Cup. Multiple Revolution players have played for the U.S. since that time.

Four current Revolution players - Agudelo, Teal Bunbury, Charlie Davies and Jermaine Jones - had scored for the U.S. since Twellman's goal in 2007, but none had done so while they were playing for the Revs until Agudelo did so. He now has three goals for the U.S., equal to the number that Jermaine Jones has. Of the seven Revolution players that have played in a full international, only Charlie Davies, with four goals in 17 international appearances, has more goals than Agudelo.

NGUYEN SET FOR A CENTURY

While Nguyen did not play for the U.S. on Wednesday, he did play for the Revolution last weekend, becoming the 21st player in club history to make 100 regular-season appearance with the Revs. Acquired by the club ahead of the start of the 2012 season, Nguyen now has 28 goals and 15 assists in 100 regular-season games. One of six players to be named the club's MVP multiple times, doing so in 2012 and 2014, Nguyen enjoyed his best season in 2014, scoring 20 goals in all competitions while adding eight assists and being named a finalist for the MLS MVP award and earning a spot on the MLS All-Star Team.

For his career, Nguyen has two goals and two assists in eight regular-season games against the Union. Last season, he had a goal and an assist in the Revs' 5-3 win at PPL Park. Those were his first goal and his first assist at the venue.

AND GETS OFF THE MARK

Lee Nguyen scored his first goal of the season last weekend, converting a 54th minute penalty in the Revs' 2-0 win over Colorado. That was the 26th goal of his MLS career and the eighth of which came from the penalty spot. Last season, Nguyen was 4-4 on penalties after going 1-1 in 2012 and 2-3 in 2013. His lone miss came on Sept. 21, 2013 against D.C. United when he missed a 57th minute attempt but then converted one in the 83rd minute for the game-winning goal.

Just like this season, in 2014, Nguyen scored his first goal of the season with a second half strike to help lead New England to its first road victory of the year. He would go on to score 18 regular-season goals, which were a record for a midfielder in MLS and left him tied with Raul Diaz Arce for the second-best single season goal scoring tally in club history.

TWO CLOSE TO 20-20

Lee Nguyen and Kelyn Rowe are each close to joining a select club in Revolution history. Since the club began playing in MLS in 1996, just five players - Shalrie Joseph, Joe-Max Moore, Pat Noonan, Steve Ralston and Taylor Twellman - have scored 20 goals and added 20 assists for the club. Now, Nguyen and Rowe are close.

Nguyen already has 28 career goals to go along with 15 assists, one of which came on Rowe's opening goal against San Jose three weeks ago. That means that Nguyen needs five more assists - bringing his season total to six, one shy of his MLS career-high, to join the Revs' 20-20 club.

Rowe does not have 20 goals or 20 assists yet, but he is closer to joining the club than Nguyen is. He had 17 goals and 19 assists in 96 regular-season games, leaving him three goals and one assists of having 20 goals and 20 assists in his career, which began in 2012.

GOALS AT A PREMIUM

Through six games this season, the Revs have scored just four goals, leaving them tied for 18th in MLS. The Revs have been shutout four times this season - just five fewer than they were in all of 2014 - while they rank 12th in MLS with 20 shots on goal and 11th with 62 shots.

However, the Revs have been nearly as stingy at the other end of the field, conceding just six times, including no goals in the opening 15 minutes of either half. After allowing five goals in their first two games of the season, the Revs have conceded just once since March 15, keeping three clean sheets. The only goal that has been scored against New England in that time was a Chris Wondolowski penalty kick in the Revs' 2-1 win over San Jose on March 28.

Only Colorado has more shutouts this season than New England, tallying four in their five games this season. The Revs are the only team to score against the Rapids this year, beating them 2-0 at Dick's Sporting Goods Park on April 4.

JONES RETURNS

After missing each of the first five games of the season while recovering from sports hernia surgery, Jermaine Jones played the opening 45 minutes last weekend against Columbus, collecting a first-half yellow card. If he plays on Sunday, it will be his first-ever game against the Union, one of two non-expansion teams in the Eastern Conference that Jones is yet to face. Last year, he had three goals and six assists in 15 games for the Revs in all competitions with all coming in games against teams that were in the East at the time.

TEAM NOTES

FAGUNDEZ HAS PHILLY FIGURED OUT

Diego Fagundez is the Revs' all-time leading scorer against Philadelphia. The 20-year old midfielder has scored three goals and registered three assists in seven games played against the Union. Fagundez notched his first career goal against the Union on April 27, 2013 at Gillette Stadium and then followed up that performance with a goal and two assists (both on goals by Juan Agudelo) on August 25, 2013 at Gillette Stadium. Last season, he added a goal and an assist in the Revs' 5-3 win at PPL Park on May 17, 2014.

Fagundez has yet to open his scoring account in 2015, appearing in four games, including starts in the first three games off the season before coming off the bench last weekend against Columbus. He has not scored in any of his last eight regular-season appearances for New England, starting five of those games. He has played 24 regular-season games since scoring against the Union in May 2014, tallying two goals and two assists in that time.

FARRELL MAINTAINS FULL-TIME STATUS

Andrew Farrell is the Revs' only outfield player to have played every minute so far in the regular season after Chris Tierney was unavailable for last weekend's 0-0 draw with Columbus Crew SC. Farrell has started in central defense and played every minute in all six of the Revs' games this season.

This is nothing new for the 23-year old defender, who led New England field players in 2014 by logging 2,840 minutes in 32 starts, which was second only to goalkeeper Bobby Shuttleworth's 2,880 minutes. As a rookie in 2013, Farrell, the Revolution's first-ever number one overall pick in the MLS SuperDraft, started in 32 games for a total of 2,813 minutes which was third behind, defender Jose Goncalves's 3,060 minutes and midfielder Lee Nguyen's 2,838 minutes.

For his career, Farrell has played 6,193 minutes in 70 games, starting all of those. While he is yet to score a goal in that time, Farrell does have one assist and has helped the New England defense keep 24 shutouts in the games that he played.

ANOTHER SHUTOUT FOR SHUTTLEWORTH

After Saturday's 0-0 draw with Columbus Crew SC, Bobby Shuttleworth has now recorded three shutouts through the Revolution's first six games of the season, with all three coming in the club's last four games. The shutout was the 24th shutout of Shuttleworth's career, with just one of those coming against this weekend's opponent, the Philadelphia Union. That came on April 27, 2013 at Gillette Stadium when Shuttleworth made four saves in a 2-0 Revolution win.

Now in his seventh season with the Revs, Shuttleworth ranks second in the Revs' club history with 24 shutouts in 79 games started in goal behind Matt Reis who recorded 66 shutouts in 253 starts. That means that Shuttleworth has kept a clean sheet in 30.37% of his starts, compared to 26.08% for Reis.

The last time the Revs recorded three shutouts in their opening six games was in 2013, when Reis and Shuttleworth split time in goal throughout the campaign, combining for a club record 14 shutouts on the way to the Revs' first trip to the playoffs since 2009. Twenty of Shuttleworth's 24 shutouts have come since the start of the 2013 season as he has averaged one shutout in every three starts in that time.

A FIRST FOR KOBAYASHI

The Revolution have been without midfielder Daigo Kobayashi for each of the last two games after he suffered a left hamstring strain in the run up to the club's 2-0 win at Colordao on April 4. That was the first regular season game that Kobayashi had missed since joining the Revs in February 2014. That year, Kobayashi was the only New England player to appear in all 34 of the club's regular season games, starting 23 of them while collecting four assists. This season, Kobayashi had appeared in each of the club's first four games and starting three of those before being injured.

While Kobayahsi, who played in 30 games with Vancouver in 2013, his first year in MLS, was the only Revolution player to appear in all 34 regular-season games last year, he did not appear in every game that the club played last season as he was an unused substitute for both legs of the Eastern Conference Championship against New York and was not in the team for the U.S. Open Cup defeat to Philadelphia.

A NATIONAL AUDIENCE

Sunday's game, which will be shown on ESPN2, is the third time this season that the Revs have been featured on national television, matching the number of regular-season games the Revs were featured on national TV in 2014. Each of New England's first two games of 2015 were shown on national TV with the Revs losing 3-0 in Seattle on FOX Sports 1 and falling 2-0 to New York City FC a week later on ESPN2.

After this weekend, the Revs are scheduled to appear on national television five more times, including three dates on ESPN2, and once both Fox Sports 1 and Univision Deportes. Except for the Revs' rematch of MLS Cup 2014 against the LA Galaxy on Sunday, May 31, all of the Revs' nationally televised games will be played away from New England.

Last season, the Revs were 2-0-1 in regular-season games broadcast nationally, playing to a 1-1 draw at Chicago on April 19 and capturing a 3-2 win at Sporting Kansas City on September 26 on NBC Sports Network, and coming from behind to beat Houston 2-1 on ESPN2 at BBVA Compass Stadium on October 16.

SEVEN LOOKING FOR FIRST MINUTES OF 2015

Seven of the 26 players on the Revolution roster are looking for their first action of the season, including three that are away on loan. Goalkeepers Brad Knighton and Trevor Spangenberg are yet to play, as are defenders Donnie Smith (who was injured for the first three games of the season) and London Woodberry. They are joined by three players who are away on loan. Jerry Bengtson playing in Argentina with Belgrano while rookies Tyler Rudy and Timi Mulgrew are with the USL's Rochester Rhinos.

Of that group, Knighton has been on the bench for all six games this season while Woodberry has been on the bench four times. Rudy and Smith were each in the 18-man squad once while none of the other three have been included in a gameday squad for the Revs this season.

HEAPS ONE WIN FROM .500

Revolution head coach Jay Heaps is in his fourth season in charge of the club that he played for from 2001 until his retirement after the 2009 season. Already the second longest tenured coach in club history, Heaps has increased the club's win total in each of his first three seasons, leading the Revs to nine wins in 2012 (after a club record low of five wins in 2011, Steve Nicol's final season in charge), 14 in 2013 and 17 last season, tying a club record.

Only the second coach (besides Nicol) to lead the Revs to the postseason on multiple occasions, Heaps entered the 2015 campaign as the fifth longest tenured coach in MLS. Only Bruce Arena (LA Galaxy), Ben Olsen (D.C. United), Sigi Schmid (Seattle Sounders FC) and Peter Vermes (Sporting Kansas City) have been with their respective clubs longer. He has a 42-43-23 regular-season record and a 4-2-1 mark in the postseason, having led the Revs to the playoffs in each of the last two seasons.

Against the Union, who entered MLS in 2010, the first season after Heaps retired, he had a 3-5-1 record, including a 3-1-0 mark when his team scores first.

PLAYING AS THE CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

The Revolution won their fifth Eastern Conference Championship in 2014, defeating the New York Red Bulls 4-3 on aggregate for the right to play for MLS Cup. That was the fifth time that New England had reached MLS Cup, good for the third-most in MLS history, and the first since 2007, equaling the longest stretch in club history without an appearance in the league's championship.

The Revs have finished each season as reigning conference champions with more wins than losses and have failed to reach the Conference Championship just once.

FLAG OF NEW ENGLAND

Long before the sewing of the American flag as we know it -- before there were the United States, and hundreds of years before its slightly-altered stars and stripes emerged on the Revolution club badge -- a flag of a different design was flown proudly in the early colonies that now comprise New England.

Historic Revolutionary War artist John Trumbull's depiction of the Battle of Bunker Hill featured a red flag with a green pine tree, which often served as a representation of the New England colonies. While historians argue the exact dates of origin of this early flag, over time, the design stood out as a symbol of honor for the territory.

It was a reflection of unification. It's flown as an homage to the region's pride and passion.

No group has more pride or passion than Revolution supporters, who have flown the flag of New England in Gillette Stadium, and the former Foxboro Stadium, since the club's inception in 1996.

With such a deep connection to both club and country on many different levels, the flag of New England now adorns the Revolution uniforms -- both as testament to the region's revolutionary history, and as a visual representation of the club's supporters.

Situated at the base of the neck on the back of the club's primary jersey and the serving as the inspiration for the club's secondary kit, the flag of New England now lives in honor on every New England Revolution jersey.

With the flag of New England playing such a prominent role in the Revs' uniforms, the players and supporters alike are reminded that the club holds true to its community's historic roots and continues to proudly represent the historic region of New England, while symbolically bringing the supporters onto the field for each and every game.

HEAD COACH JAY HEAPS

Years with Club: 4

Years coaching in MLS: 4

Career Coaching Record: 42-43-23

Postseason Record: 4-2-1

Jay Heaps is in his fourth season as the head coach of the New England Revolution after taking the reigns of the club following the 2011 season. In his first three years on the bench, Heaps transformed the Revs from a five-win club that finished at the bottom of the Eastern Conference to the 2014 Eastern Conference Championship while playing an open and attractive brand of soccer that has come to define the new-look Revolution.

Over the course of his time with the Revolution, Heaps has transformed the club's roster with just five players (Kevin Alston, Darrius Barnes, Diego Fagundez, Bobby Shuttleworth and Chris Tierney) remaining from when he was named the sixth head coach in club history in November 2011. Smart drafting has yielded players like Andrew Farrell and Kelyn Rowe while players such as Teal Bunbury, Charlie Davies and Lee Nguyen have all seen their MLS careers revitalized under the tutelage of the 38-year-old's tutelage. That group, along with the likes of Juan Agudelo, Scott Caldwell, captain Jose Goncalves and Jermaine Jones - all signed by New England since Heaps was named head coach - forms the core of today's New England Revolution.

That group, with the exception of Agudelo, nearly led the Revs to their first MLS Cup championship in 2014, only to fall just shy, losing 2-1 in extra time to the host LA Galaxy. The Revs equaled a club record for wins that season and ended the year on a 9-1-1 run that saw the club finish second in the Eastern Conference with 55 points, which were the second-most in club history. The team was even better in the playoffs, scoring a record seven goals to beat Columbus 7-3 on aggregate before knocking off New York 4-3 on aggregate in the Eastern Conference Championship for the first time since 2007 when Heaps was still playing for the Revs.

Prior to being named the head coach of the Revolution, Heaps spent nine seasons as a player with the club. He ranks third in club history with 243 regular season games played and helped New England reach MLS Cup four times while winning the 2007 U.S. Open Cup and the 2008 SuperLiga. He served as an analyst on Revolution television broadcasts in 2010
